1. The above-mentioned image material is to be used as part of the public relations and internal communication work by ZUG as the project management agency of the International Climate Initiative (IKI). This comprises the creation of print media and uploads on the internet, intranet and social networks.
2. The person making the declaration grants ZUG the simple, transferable right of use of the above-mentioned image material without temporal and spatial restrictions, covering all types of use. Said person consents to the editing and amendment as well as the publication and utilisation – including edited and amended image material – by ZUG, by third parties commissioned by ZUG or by clients of ZUG (federal ministries).
3. The person making the declaration shall ensure that they have full rights of use over the image material and that no third party rights, in particular copyrights, trademarks, personal rights and other ancillary copyrights exist that preclude the free right use of the image material by ZUG. If persons are recognisably depicted in the image material, the person making the declaration shall explicitly ensure that the necessary rights have been contractually granted and that ZUG may use the image material without obtaining further consent from the persons depicted.

5. As a precautionary measure, the person making the declaration shall indemnify ZUG against all claims filed by third parties arising from any rights they may have to the image material. The exemption shall apply in particular to claims for the infringement of copyrights and personal rights or claims for damages due to a violation of the General Data Protection Regulation that may be filed against ZUG in connection with the use of the image material.
6. The person making the declaration shall not be able to claim any additional remuneration (fees, licence fees, compensation of expenses or similar) from ZUG for the use of the image material.
