IKI support for indigenous groups in coping with COVID-19

Confronted with the unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic, the world is now facing the greatest health, economic and social challenge in the recent times. For those living in “indigenous peoples and community conserved territories and areas” (ICCAs), COVID-19 has worsened their already dire situation of lack of access to healthcare and essential services. Moreover, the communities are confronted with significant challenges in access to food, thus exacerbating food insecurity, intrusion in their protected areas and chronic poverty. Read on IKI's contribution in providing support and narrowing awareness gaps on COVID-19.
