The IKI launches updated Standard Indicators

The IKI Standard Indicators on mitigation, ecosystems and adaptation have been updated to include indicators on mobilised finance and capacity people. These updated indicators will apply to all new IKI projects that started in 2021 and afterwards.

The indicators were first introduced to IKI projects in 2015, in an effort to understand IKI's aggregate contributions across the projects and compliment the monitoring of individual projects. But what does this update entail for the IKI projects? More information is available on the IKI website, where you can also register to attend an online seminar on the Standard Indicators.
